Dear Mr. Braun,

At a time when true stars are hard to come by, we would like to honor Justin Bieber's continued success and growth over the past nine years with the following offer:

ManShop.com, a men's sexual health and wellness site that specializes in Male Pleasure Toys, would like to offer Justin $50,000 for the opportunity to create a model of his penis in solid 24-karat gold, which will feature a ring adorned with 50 diamonds at the base of the shaft. We will make just ONE toy that would then become the luxury toy of all time for the ultimate Justin Bieber super fan!

Justin is rumored to have a big one and we would like to give him the opportunity to show it off. As part of this offer, we would like to create this high-quality toy and auction it off to the highest bidder, then donate the profits to a charity of Justin's choice.

As the leading e-tailer of adult novelties and adult products worldwide, we are well positioned to provide Justin this unique opportunity.

Given his dedication to his fans and to good causes, we believe this offer is a win-win for Justin, his fans and his favorite charitable organization.

We would love the opportunity to discuss this further at your convenience.

I appreciate your consideration.

Best regards,

Jeff Dillon
